الخطوة: ٢

You'll need these 3 things to get started

1

Your email address

You need a valid email address, preferably the one provided by your school. You'll be getting some important emails from your instructor at this address.

2

Your instructor's Course ID

Your instructor will give you a Course ID that links you directly into your course. It will look something like this: INST-12345-PEAR-12. If you don't know your Course ID, check with your instructor or a classmate.

Note: Not all courses require a Course ID. Please check with your instructor.

3

An access code, credit card, or PayPal

If you already have an access code, you'll redeem it when you register. If you don't, you can use a credit card or PayPal to purchase access.
